Tricky Winter Chills Eastern Side Of Nation

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Icy cold and cutting winds, unleashed by a tricky winter, gripped the northeastern states today.

In many places, temperatures plunged to the lowest levels in two years.

The cold wave was accompanied by piercing winds that shattered windows and toppled signs.

The cold front stretched from Canada to the southern United States along the eastern side of the country.

Much of new England shivered in sub-zero temperatures that dropped toward 20 and 25 below in northern Maine.

The cold air moderated as it moved southward but temperatures were on the chilly side over much of the southern states. The mercury dropped into the 30's in parts of northern Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. But Miami reported an early morning reading of 59.

Temperatures were around seasonal levels over most of the rest of the country. The only sub-zero spot outside the northeastern frost belt was Pembina, N. D., which reported -8. At the same time, Rumford, Me., had a low of 11 below zero; it was -7 at Albany, N. Y.

Snow was reported over much of the great lakes region.

The northeastern cold blast came as New York state and Massachusetts began rationing coal. Other states, with short coal supplies, also faced sharpened home-heating problems.

At Port Chester, N. Y., in suburban Westchester county, Mrs. Agnes Amalauz, a 67-year-old widow, was found frozen to death in an alley.

Mercy Slaying Jury Selected

Doctor Stands Trial In Manchester, N. H.

By HENRY L. SUPPLE
MANCHESTER, N. H.—(AP)—The world-spotlighted trial of Dr. Hermann N. Sander charged with murder in the "mercy slaying" of a cancerous patient moved with unexpected speed today toward actual presentation of evidence.

With nine jurors already selected, the defense and prosecution hoped to complete the panel and hurdle most preliminary phases by nightfall.

The 41-year-old country doctor—a former Dartmouth ski captain—remained calm during the long and monotonous opening day proceedings. His attractive wife sat beside him.

The state charges Dr. Sander injected 40 cubic centimeters of air into the veins of Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, wife of a Manchester old salesman, as she lay on a bed of pain at Hillsborough county hospital last December.

The injections, the indictment says, were given four times in quick succession and in sufficient quantities to cause death.

Six of the nine jurors selected yesterday are Catholics. The other three recorded their denominations as Protestant Episcopalian, Baptist and Presbyterian.

Baby Burns In Crib

NILES, Mich.—(AP)—A 10-month-old baby burned to death in his crib at the farm home of his parents near Buchanan late Monday.

Mrs. Odas Stewart, who rushed to a flaming attic to rescue the child, Richard, was in good condition at Pawatting hospital here. She was burned on the hands, face and back.

Inquiry Cools Off On Royal Oak's 'Fresh' Teachers

DETROIT.—(AP)—A state official checking reports of improprieties by teachers at a rural high school said that so far he has failed to turn up "anything which could be taken to court."

Norman Borgerson, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, is investigating charges involving Madison high school in Royal Oak township. He reported yesterday that "the testimony is very conflicting."

"The statements," he said, "are running about 50-50 pro and con." He took testimony yesterday from family groups after previously hearing students and teachers.

Classes were disrupted last week when students struck, claiming that men teachers had been unduly familiar with girl students. Borgerson said, however, that some family groups had praised for the teachers. A total of 13 of the 17 faculty members have submitted resignations, protesting "vague insinuations."

Eight Perish In Farm Blaze

Father And Children Die At Addison, Mich.

Addison, Mich.—(AP)—A fire destroyed a farm house near here early today, killing seven children and their father.

The only survivor of the middle-of-the-night blaze was the mother who was badly burned.

Evidently, firemen said, the two-story frame building went up like a puff. It was in ruins when firemen got there.

The blaze, believed caused by a defective basement furnace, broke out about 1:30 a. m. in near-zero temperature.

Barefoot and bleeding from cuts on her face and hands, Mrs. Beagle had run frantically through the cold snow to a neighbor's home 80 rods away.

She told firemen she broke a window to escape. On the ground outside she said she heard her trapped children screaming in their upstairs bedrooms.

The state charges Dr. Sander injected 40 cubic centimeters of air into the veins of Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, wife of a Manchester old salesman, as she lay on a bed of pain at Hillsborough county hospital last December.

The injections, the indictment says, were given four times in quick succession and in sufficient quantities to cause death.

Bell Telephone Co.

Rate Increase Up

For Decision Today

LANSING.—(AP)—The 14-month-old application of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for a rate increase was due to go before the Michigan Public Service commission for decision today.

Raymond Foulkrod, plant extension engineer for the company, was scheduled to be on the stand for cross-examination in the last day of hearings.

The company applied for permanent rate increases totaling $20,400,000 annually Dec. 28, 1948.

In yesterday's hearing, Dr. Ralph E. Dodge, Detroit investment counselor, testifying that the commission staff, testified that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent of Michigan Bell, must step up its earnings if it is to attract the $1,500,000,000 in capital for expansion by 1952 it claims is needed.

Respondent Denied Freedom In Reuther Shooting Case Trial

DETROIT.—(AP)—The judge in the Walter Reuther shooting trial refused today to free defendant Carl Bolton without letting the case go to the jury.

Bolton, accused of assault with intent to murder the CIO United Auto Workers president, lost a directed verdict plea before recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide.

The judge, however, said that in letting the case go to the jury he would instruct it to decide whether Bolton did the actual shooting. He held there was no evidence Bolton was an accomplice.

He held the state had shown a crime was committed, that there has been testimony regarding a motive, and it was possible for Bolton to have been at the scene of the April 20, 1948, shooting.

Los Angeles Mother Has Baby Unaided; Brings It To Police

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—A woman trailed by three children aged four to seven walked into a police station yesterday, depositing a towel-wrapped infant on the sergeant's desk and said: "I've just had a baby."

Mrs. Mary Alice Durant, 28, gave birth unassisted to the child in her apartment, then walked two blocks to the station. From there, an ambulance took her to general hospital. Attendants said both are doing well, although the baby at first was in critical condition.

He died at the hospital.

He reported big crowds at the Lincoln Day meetings which he addressed. So far, he said, no opposition in either party has developed to his re-election.

Potter, whose district extends both into the Lower and Upper Peninsulas, had one experience on his trip which confirmed his support of the proposed bridge across Mackinaw Straits.

He got up at 4 a. m. one day to catch a 6 a. m. ferry but the boat broke down and he finally made it across the Straits at 2 p. m.

"If I hadn't been convinced of the necessity of a bridge before, that would have done it," he said.

Freezing Rains Turn To Snow In Lower Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Freezing rains, which caused thousands of dollars damage and isolated 32 towns in Michigan last week, moved back into the state today. But U. S. weather observers foresaw no serious danger.

The Saginaw and Lansing areas reported freezing drizzles during the morning and forecasters said the rain would move slowly northward, changing to snow tonight.

Temperatures generally were higher last night than Monday, when most Michigan cities reported new lows for the winter, ranging from 23° below at Pellston to 3° above at Detroit. Readings are expected to stay up through today, but to drop sharply Wednesday.

Middle and northern sectors of the Lower Peninsula and the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula can expect moderate to heavy snow tonight and tomorrow. Downstate temperatures were due to rise to 35 today and drop to around 15 Wednesday night. The Upper Peninsula can expect below zero readings in the interior to 10 above along the lakes tomorrow night.

Light snow was general over the state last (Monday) night but ground blankets remained virtually unchanged, ranging from 37 inches at Houghton to 1 inch in Detroit.

Overnight lows in Michigan included:

Houghton, 3; Sault Ste. Marie, -6; Pellston, 5; Alpena, 7; Traverse City, 8; Muskegon, 11; Grand Rapids, 12; Lansing, 14; Flint, 10; Mt. Clemens, 6; Battle Creek, 13; Jackson, 12, and Detroit, 11.

Six months after it is hatched the average pullet will lay its first egg.

Final rites for Mrs. Frances Gasman were held at 9 this morning at St. Joseph's church, Father Patrick McArron, O. F. M., offering the requiem high mass, and burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Soloist of St. Joseph's choir was Miss Barbara Skopp. At the offertory Earl Owen sang "Domine Jesu Christe" and at the close of the mass "Jesus Salvator Mundii" was sung by Mrs. Eldridge Baker. Miss Eva Cossette was organist-director.

Honorary pallbearers of St. Joseph's Altar society were Mrs. Frank Newhouse, Mrs. Henry Nerbonne, Mrs. Theodore Menard, Mrs. Joseph Gleich, Mrs. Adelore Grenier, Mrs. Harold Fredrickson. Active pallbearers were William, James, Tom and David Gasman, Joseph Vogel and Harold Fredrickson.

Those at the funeral included Mrs. Bert Vandes Kelen of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Emma Breen Johnson of Milwaukee.

Sofia Diplomatic Corps Recalled By United States

States expected Bulgaria would facilitate the departure of the American group. Voutov said he assumed this would be done.

The Saginaw County Agricultural Society reconsidered its dismissal action and restored the job to Harnden.

However, the society, fair sponsor, indicated it would define the manager's duties more clearly. At the time of the firing Harnden was charged with going beyond his rights.

Peace Pledges Violated

In line with that policy, the United States has retained representatives in capitals of other Soviet bloc states despite frequent friction.

The dispute with Bulgaria came to a head when the Bulgarian government submitted a formal demand for the recall of Heath, accusing him of "abrupt interference in the interior affairs" of Bulgaria.

Bulgaria, along with Hungary and Romania, was formally charged by the United States and other Western powers last year in the United Nations with violating peace treaty pledges.

The charges were particularly of violation of rights they had pledged to give their own people.

It denounced as false the charges against Heath.

Five Bulgarians were charged at Sofia today with spying for America and the Communist-controlled press used their indictment as a signal for new blasts against Heath and the U. S. legation in Sofia.

The five, two of them former employees of the American legation, were accused of transmitting political, economic and military information to the American intelligence service.

Another peace experiment is pending in wheat prices and little lower. Reports of moisture in the winter wheat country was a factor in the trading.

Corn did just under yesterday's close. There was no pressure in that pit but traders were inclined to await developments. Ireland took 160,000 bushels of corn yesterday but that had little effect.

During the first hour wheat was 1/2 cent lower. March $2.20 1/4; corn was 1/2 to 1/4 lower, March $1.28 1/2; and oats were 1/2 to 3/4 lower. May 70 1/4. Soybeans were 1/2 to one cent lower. March $2.37 1/2 and lard was five cents a hundredweight higher to seven cents lower, March $10.85.

Young Girl Is Hit By Truck

Brushes Off Snow, And Walks Away

A young Escanaba girl whose identity has not been learned ran into a panel truck driven by Clyde Moersch, in the 500 block of South 11th street, at 4:45 p. m. yesterday. Though the youngster was caught under the right rear wheel and dragged several feet, she got up, brushed the snow off her clothing, and walked away.

Neither Moersch who lives at 429 S. 13th Street, nor city police have been able to learn who the young girl was.

Moersch told police five girls of high school age were walking on the right side of South 11th street, when he was driving north on the street. One girl suddenly broke away from the group and another ran after her. The first girl cleared the truck driven by Moersch, but the second was caught under the right rear wheel.

Fearless Fosdick And The H-Bomb

NEWSPAPER cartoon fans are familiar with the Fearless Fosdick episode currently running in the Sunday strip of the Lil' Abner cartoon.

Fosdick is Lil' Abner's detective hero. Because some crook has poisoned a few cans of beans, Fosdick is carrying on a one-man campaign to save his constituents from death by poisoning. He has organized a crusade against bean-eating. He "saves" his constituents by shooting them in the head when he finds them eating beans. At the last count, he had "saved" several hundred of his hometown friends and neighbors. The fact that they ended up on a slab at the morgue doesn't bother Fosdick in the least. He takes great pride in the knowledge that he "saved" them from possible death by poisoning.

We cannot help but wonder if perhaps we are Fearless Fosdicks on the hydrogen bomb problem. A number of scientists have expressed serious fears that when the first hydrogen bomb is exploded, it will saturate the atmosphere with radioactive poison, destroying all life on earth. If this result actually develops, the cold war will be over and our Fearless Fosdick personalities will have saved us from war with Russia—by destroying all the Russians and all the Americans, as well as all the other peoples of the world. Not a particularly happy thought, is it?

On the other hand, we cannot accept an "ostrich in the sand" attitude on the H-bomb. We can only hope that the scientists engaged in the bomb project will learn enough about the probable results that may be anticipated to prevent the destruction of the world. There is the possibility, the probability, in fact, that such horrible results so direly predicted would not materialize. In that event, we would be in a virtually hopeless predicament if Russia developed the H-bomb and we did not.

In the meantime, our only choice is the choice that President Truman has already announced—to go to work on the hydrogen bomb, at the same time continuing our efforts to work out with the Russians an acceptable agreement for international control of atomic energy. It is a gamble, but our only choice.

Mine Subsidy Bill Has Merit

A bill now before congress to subsidize copper mines and thereby save the copper mining industry in Michigan's Upper Peninsula probably will be enacted before long. The bill provides that $80,000,000 be set aside yearly for the subsidy program and for spurring a search for new metals.

Even those people very much opposed to the principle of federal subsidies must concede that the copper mining subsidy plan, as it is now constituted, has a lot of merit. The bill prevents mining companies from profiting from the subsidy, as they did during the war, but it provides that mining companies be guaranteed cost of production, depreciation and depletion allowances.

The nation will profit from this arrangement by acquiring stockpiles of very strategic metals for national defense and other purposes. If this were not done, the deep copper mines of the Upper Peninsula would be forced to remain idle, and ultimately they would fill with water and be useless at a time of national emergency.

The cost of draining the mines under such conditions not only would be enormous but even worse, it would require several years to do so. Time is a factor that cannot be purchased with money in a national emergency.

The mine subsidy bill has already passed the senate and its approval in the house is anticipated. Although the president has twice vetoed mine subsidy bills, Rep. Bennett of the 12th Michigan district, has been assured that Mr. Truman will approve this measure if it reaches his desk.

Lustron Fiasco Proves Haste Makes Waste

THE country's costliest experiment in mass-producing prefabricated homes apparently is doomed to failure. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has decided to start foreclosure proceedings against the Lustron Corporation, maker of all-steel dwellings.

The RFC has loaned the Columbus, O., firm $37,500,000 in an effort to get it well-launched on big-scale housing operations. Both the company and the agency figure foreclosure may cost the government $30,000,000 of that sum.

The Lustron case is a sad history of dreams never realized. It is made all the more dismal by the fact that the project seems to have had the blessing of high government officials, probably including President Truman, from the beginning.

Why were these men so interested in Lustron? From the days of Wilson Wyatt, former federal housing expeditor, there's been a notion in Washington that a well-developed prefabricated housing industry would go far toward bringing the cost of a decent home down to the average man's level.

At the same time, it was felt this goal couldn't be achieved simply by waiting for the tiny prefabricated housing output of established companies to swell into the desired heavy production. Government interest centered on initiating a bold effort to telescope this growth process.

The way to do it, Wyatt and others decided, was to help ambitious firms get quickly into automobile-style mass production of houses. The Lustron company turned out to be the prime guinea pig in this plan. It gained control of former aviation plant space in Columbus. The RFC lent it money for machinery and operating expenses. Big things were in the wind, and the promises were lavish.

But somehow the dream always remained just out of reach. Many problems arose. It was hard to find the necessary skilled labor force, to set up a sensible selling organization. Continued rising costs wrecked hopes of a really cheap sales price.

Several times Lustron came back for more money to keep going until it could "get over the hump." The story was always about the same: "Just let us have a few more millions and we'll really be rolling." So much government money had been put into the experiment it looked unwise to let Lustron sink while there was still any hope at all. But, inevitably, there had to be an end to doling out funds without results.

The government has decided that moment has arrived. This doesn't mean the prefabricated housing industry has failed. There are numerous small companies doing well in the field, with a few showing impressive growth. But the evident collapse of the government's bright dream does seem to mean there'll be no spectacular catastrophe of the industry onto a level with the motor makers. Progress henceforth will likely be slower than hoped for—but surer.

What's Sauce For The Goose

THE reporters who work in the press galleries at the U. S. Capitol are jealous of their independence, as well they might be. Their freedom is symbolized partly in a rule that bars anyone from the galleries who has ties with government.

But this rule is now having a curious effect. It is denying use of the galleries to reporters representing the U. S. government, but allowing full privileges to newsmen from Tass, the official Russian agency.

Tass won a libel suit in Britain on the ground it is an arm of the government and thus should have diplomatic immunity. So there can't be any argument on its official status.

Yet the Washington press corps accepts Tass as if it were independent. Meanwhile the capital newsmen are refusing to allow our own state department to have reporters in the galleries to gather news for dispatch to foreign lands over the Voice of America programs.

The department says the regular capital reporters naturally stress news from the U. S. angle, and it wants material more useful for foreign distribution. The reasoning sounds pretty good. But if the press corps remains firm in refusal, the least it can do is to apply its rule with equal force against Russian government men.

WORDS TO WATCH

The word debut is from the French. Its literal meaning is "the first throw or stroke in a game; a lead or beginning." It stems in the French but, "a mark, target, aim, object."

In American usage, debut is most frequently a "society" word, and it is usually pronounced: DAY-byoo; deh-BYOO; or: day-BYOO. I am inclined to the belief that DAY-byoo prevails in America, although some of our dictionaries have not yet sanctioned either day-BYOO or DAY-byoo, preferring either day-OO or dib-YOO.

Recommended pronunciation: DAY-byoo; or: deh-BYOO.

Debutante is: DAY-byoo-TAHNT; or: DEH-byoo-TAHNT.

Heard on a quiz program: "... according to a royal ED-ikt." "ED-ikt" for edict, a public notice or command by a sovereign, apparently results from trying to give the word a Latinized twist. But "ED-ikt" (the first syllable rhyming with bed, led), has no sanction whatever, either in usage or by the dictionaries.

There was a time, centuries ago, when edict was accented on the second syllable; but it has long been obsolete. Accent the first syllable, and give the "e" the long sound, thus: EE-dikt.

One of the queerest mispronunciations I have ever heard occurred recently on a Town Meeting broadcast. The error was made by a noted writer, who said, not once but several times, "dy-OG-nuh-sis" for the word diagnosis.

This error is noteworthy for two reasons: (1) The author is an unusually well-educated man; (2) diagnosis is a word that is in the vocabulary of every literate person, and the correct pronunciation has always been: DY-ug-NO-siss.

Heard on a radio interview: "And in Germany I saw many displaced persons who were diseased and painfully emancipated." Not so. Emancipation means "freed from restraint or bondage." The right word in the above sentence is emaciated, "reduced to abnorma thinness by disease or lack of

Russians Gain In Berlin 'War'

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Every intelligence channel supplies additional details of the plan being thoroughly and efficiently and persistently advanced by the Russians to drive the Western allies out of Berlin. By every possible means the Western position in that strategic city is being undermined.

Whether the Western allies are preparing plans of sufficient boldness to meet the attack is a question. It is a question deeply troubling many who are familiar with the precarious position of the western sector of the city and the Americans, British and French who are there presumably to see that this bastion is held.

COULD BE ANOTHER CHINA

Berlin could be another China. That may seem a fantastic exaggeration when the two areas are compared in terms of geography and population. But in Europe, Berlin has taken on such meaning as a symbol of western intentions that its loss would shake the continent and its effect in western Germany could not be calculated.

Information reaching me from knowledgeable sources in Berlin indicates that the western allies are drifting with no very clear motion of how the challenge is to be met. This is reflected in a growing nervousness and tension in the German population.

Part of the uncertainty comes out of the American blunder in ordering the seizure of the railway administration building. Then when the Russians seemed to threaten to reimpose the blockade, the order was given to surrender the building. That created a wave of doubt throughout western Germany.

Actually, of course, the origin of the trouble is much deeper than this incident. It goes back to the agreement signed by the foreign ministers in Paris in June of 1949 putting an end to the blockade. That agreement restored the controls over transportation existing in December of 1947 and January of 1948.

MANY DELAYS POSSIBLE

Under those regulations the Russians can require bills of lading on each truck load leaving the city. Endless delays are possible while the bills of lading are checked against the goods on the truck. Thus an effective blockade can be imposed within the limits of the law.

But this rule is now having a curious effect. It is denying use of the galleries to reporters representing the U. S. government, but allowing full privileges to newsmen from Tass, the official Russian agency.

Tass won a libel suit in Britain on the ground it is an arm of the government and thus should have diplomatic immunity. So there can't be any argument on its official status.

Ah, Yes, There Will Always Be an England

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Around the giant Pentagon building, just across the Potomac, winds a labyrinth of beautiful boulevards built during the war to accommodate tax payers.

The other day in Richmond, Va., the two builders of these boulevards, McKenzie Davison and W. J. "Doc" Hardy, walked into court and pleaded "no contest" to four of six counts accusing them of defrauding the government of $217,806 in taxes handsomely on war contracts.

Behind this virtual plea of guilty lies a long story, dating back to October 1948, in which this column exposed Hardy and Davison, not only for income-tax evasion, but for political wirepulling, concealment, and dodging. When this column published the story on Oct. 19, 1948, it was so sensational that some papers refused to print it.

The two road contractors had made out false invoices, written checks to other contractors, who then cashed the checks themselves, and generally falsified. Yet for eight months after this column's expose, they argued, pleaded, and haggled with patient justice department attorneys.

Finally, last July the case was sent to the U. S. attorney in Richmond for prosecution, where, however, it dragged. And it was not until after this column, on Oct. 21, 1949, again reviewed the lengthy delay that the tax-evading road builders finally were indicted.

GRAVE RUSSIAN PREPARATIONS

Perhaps the gravest briefing given to congressional leaders since V-J day took place at the Pentagon building last week. The substance of the closed-door session was that Russia must be preparing for aggressive war.

The briefing was given by Lt. Gen. Alfred Gruenther on behalf of the joint chiefs of staff to members of both the senate and house appropriations committees and armed services committees.

Gen. Gruenther was cautious in his statements, confined himself largely to a discussion of Soviet armed strength, let the congressmen draw their own conclusions.

After listening to the report, however, Congressman Engel of Michigan, Sikes of Florida and Cannon of Missouri spoke out that Russia could have only one purpose in building such a powerful arsenal: to wage war.

Here are some of the main facts presented by Gen. Gruenther—facts which Moscow already knows since there is no particular secret about our armed strength. Russia, he said, is spending 18 per cent of her national wealth on arms, which is triple what the United States is spending. Even taking our top budget figure of $15,000,000,000—which includes stockpiling—the United States is investing only 6 per cent of her wealth in defense

Fr. Melican Is Rotary Speaker

Talk On Vocation One Of Series

The Rev. Fr. Martin B. Melican, pastor of St. Patrick's church, yesterday outlined to the Escanaba Rotary club his life of work as a teacher and priest, one of a series of vocational service talks being presented by members of the organization.

A native of Manistique, Fr. Melican graduated from Manistique High school and following jobs in a box factory and on a farm entered Michigan State College at East Lansing, then Michigan Agricultural College. He worked his way through college and later taught in Detroit and Baraga.

From Baraga he came to Escanaba High school to teach agriculture—but ever since boyhood he had wanted to become a priest. Studies at Salvatorian and other colleges, followed by seminary training, prepared him for ordination to the priesthood and assignment to the cathedral and Marquette.

After serving there one year he accepted the position of chaplain at Michigan branch state prison at Marquette—and he still hears from a number of former inmates, now going straight.

"A sad work" followed, said Fr. Melican. This was with the unfortunate boys and girls in the Catholic orphanages at Marquette and Baraga, who he described as the "victims of circumstances and broken homes." His transfer to the pastorate of St. Patrick's church brought him to Escanaba, and today he is busy with duties of his parish and in addition is superintendent for Catholic schools in the Upper Peninsula.

It was announced to the club that on March 6 the Rotary Clubs of Escanaba, Gladstone, Munising and Manistique will meet jointly at the Nahm Club house.

Cement Manufacture Shown In Movies

Movies of the manufacture of Portland cement were shown at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the House of Ludington Monday noon.

Michael Jensen of Escanaba, representative of the Portland Cement Association, described the activities of his group, and told of some of the recent developments in the cement industry.

The color movies showed the quarrying, production and distribution of Portland cement in a detailed and interesting manner.

School Concert Will Be Offered

258 Students Will Play On Feb. 28

Two hundred fifty-eight students of Escanaba's five grade schools, the junior high school and the senior high school will participate in a concert of instrumental music to be given in William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium on Feb. 28.

Robert S. Meyer, instrumental music director, is in charge of the program, preparations for which have been underway for many weeks.

A 36-piece grade school honor band, a 33-piece all city tonette band, a 50-piece grade school string orchestra, a 49-piece JHS orchestra, a 47-piece JHS band, the 55-piece senior band and the 45-piece senior orchestra will perform.

A grade school string ensemble, a violin soloist, a junior violin ensemble, a French horn quartet, a coronet trio and a cornet-baritone duo will also play.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from any of the music students. The program Feb. 28 begins at 8 p. m.

Mental Experts Feeling Abused

Arouse Disrespect, Ruark Contends

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—I was bouncing a couple of psychiatrists off the wall, the other night at a tea party, and they were moaning somewhat about the way they get misunderstood and manhandled by the press, which always seems to invest them with pointedheads and a hoodoo pouch full of old bones and dried lizards.

So recently we had the trial of this poor little, or big, Carol Ann Faught girl over in Connecticut, whose very life was dependent on whether she was sane or out of her mind at the moment she shot her cancer-riddled father. The defense hauls in a psychiatrist, and so does the prosecution, to preach the nine good men and true the real gospel on whether Carol was sane or daffy when she cracked down on her loving papa.

Girl Was Nuts

The defense man, Doc Clifford Moore, he naturally says the girl was nuts when she drew the gun, for why else would you have him up there on the stand. The state's tame spadebeard, he says she was just as sane as you and me and maybe saner. Then he admits under questioning that he is being paid by the state to testify, and the whole courthouse audience riz up and boozed him. Dr. Binger had said, earlier in the Hiss trial, that psychiatry was an inexact science, and he turned out to be so awful right.

I do not see how my anguished psychiatric friends can expect other than disrespect so long as they allow their cohorts to make arrant asses of themselves in public. I do not see how they can expect reverence when Doc May Romm is exerting wild-eyed Hollywood epics like the late "Spellbound" and disseminating loose talk to press conferences just to ballyhoo a movie.

Persons wishing to donate used or new apparel are asked to telephone the Salvation Army headquarters.

So long as these babies rush into print, for dough and publicity, advocating manipulation of the

People Forgetting How To Have Fun

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK.—(P)—Anybody got a used town for sale—cheap? Burl Ives, the big, bearded ballad singer, is in the market for a second-hand small town, in good condition, if it has a mountain or two around it and the price is right.

He'd like it for a purpose—to see if he can build a community where Americans can have some real down-to-earth fun again.

"People don't have real fun anymore—not honest to God fun," complained "The Wayfarer in Stranger" as he sat in slippered ease comfortably overflowing an overstuffed chair in the Hotel Plaza.

"I'd like to build a place where they could go and have fun, and do the things they want—a creative place."

"It would be an inside-out place rather than an outside-in place. By that I mean I'd want people to get the spirit of having their entertainment come from inside rather than from outside themselves."

Burl, who earns more singing folk songs than Beethoven did writing symphonies, explained he thought people had less fun nowadays because "They are expressed at—instead of expressing themselves."

"And that ain't good for the soul."

"Radios, movies, television, sporting events—they're all good, but they don't allow people to give out with their own talent."

So he'd like to create a community where they could come, either to live or spend a vacation, and develop their talents. They'd sing folk songs themselves, learn square dances—"They're ten times more fun than ballroom dancing"—and paint, make pottery, do leather work, weaving or any other type of handicraft.

"The big need today is self-expression just for the fun of it," he said. "The trouble is now if a kid does show a little talent of any kind, his parents right away want to put him in the entertain-

Get Wised Up On Income Tax

(Editor's Note: This is the eighth of 12 stories explaining who must do what and how about his 1949 income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(P)—This explains the use of form 1040-A in making your 1949 income tax return.

Just answer the questions on the form and send it to the internal revenue collector. Don't send any money with it. He'll figure your tax for you.

If he finds you owe any money, he'll notify you. You have 30 days after he notifies you to pay up. If he finds you have a refund due because too much tax was withheld from you, he'll send it to you.

Do you have any doubts whether you can use form 1040-A? This is the rule for using it:

Your total income in 1949 must have been under $5,000 and all of it—except for no more than $100 untaxed income in wages, interest or dividends—must have been in wages or salary from which full tax was withheld during the year.

If you don't fit that rule, even though your income was less than $5,000, you can't use form 1040-A. You can use the 1040 short form where you find your own tax in a table on the back.

If your income was $5,000 or more, no matter what kind of income you can't use either form 1040-A or the 1040 short form. You can use only the 1040 long form and figure your own tax.

Everyone who had taxes withheld should have such a receipt from his boss. It's called form W-2, a withholding statement.

Some people will have more than one such receipt because they worked for more than one boss during the year.

Attach W-2

In sending in your filled-out form 1040-A, you must attach a copy of each form W-2 given you by your boss or bosses.

On form 1040-A watch the questions about your being blind or 65 in 1949. Be sure you make the correct check mark.

Every person filing a return gets a $600 exemption. But if he was blind in 1949, he gets an extra $600 exemption, and if he was 65 in 1949, he gets still another $600 exemption.

And each person filing a return—if his wife files jointly with him, or if she had no income—gets a $600 exemption for her plus another $600 if she was blind in 1949, plus another $600 if she was 65 in 1949.

(You get only a $600 exemption for a dependent and no extra $600 because the dependent was blind or 65 in 1949.)

Be sure, though, that you list every person you can justly claim as a dependent.

A dependent is a close relative who received more than half his support from you in 1949 and whose income, if he had any, was

The lesson on making lampshades was given by Eileen Hine and Eileen Kovimaki. Valentine gifts were exchanged and lunch was served by the hostesses, Mary Lehtikangas and Lemp Pajunen.

Mrs. Albert Whybrew, Mrs. Victor Niemi and Mrs. Harvey Trott will go to Gladstone February 24 for a lesson on pattern alterations. Two meetings will be held during March, the next one less than $500.

The rest of the problem of filling out form 1040-A is simple. And be sure—if you're making a joint husband-wife return—that both of you sign it.

For more detailed explanations on the problems of deducting, exemptions, and husband-wife filing on Form 1040-A, see previous stories in this series.

Mental Experts Feeling Abused

NEW YORK—I was bouncing a couple of psychiatrists off the wall, the other night at a tea party, and they were moaning somewhat about the way they get misunderstood and manhandled by the press, which always seems to invest them with pointed heads and a hoodoo pouch full of old bones and dried lizards.

I murmured in a tiny, well-bred voice that he who stands up must get slapped down, and that if they are not always shooting off their faces at all possible functions, from basket-lunches to prize-fights, maybe they will not be so badly abused. There is no way, I say, to protect a man from his own foolishness, if he insists on braying at the top of his lungs.

One of the chief troubles with the soul-feeling dodge for years is that quacks and semi-quacks in the business, plus a whole flock of accredited Messiahs, have been shouting the praises of psychiatry as a cure-all for everything, when it is nearly as inexact a science as Australian bone-pointing. Another fault has been that so many sincere but impractical readers of the psyche have placed themselves in ridiculous positions, out of greed, for money or publicity.

People Forgetting How To Have Fun

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK.—(AP)—Anybody got a used town for sale—cheap? Burl Ives, the big, bearded ballad singer, is in the market for a second-hand small town, in good condition, if it has a mountain or two around it and the price is right.

He'd like it for a purpose—to see if he can build a community where Americans can have some real down-to-earth fun again.

"People don't have real fun anymore—not honest—to-God fun," complained "the Wayfarin' Stranger" as he sat in a slipper easy chair overflowing an overstuffed chair in the Hotel Plaza.

"I'd like to build a place where they could go and have fun, and do the things they want—a creative place.

"It would be an inside-out place rather than an outside-in place. By that I mean I'd want people to get the spirit of having their entertainment come from inside rather than from outside themselves."

Burl, who earns more singing folk songs than Beethoven did writing symphonies, explained he thought people had less fun nowadays because "They are expressed at—instead of expressing themselves."

"And that ain't good for the soul."

"Radios, movies, television, sporting events—they're all good, but they don't allow people to give out with their own talent."

So he'd like to create a community where they could come, either to live or spend a vacation, and develop their talents. They'd sing folk songs themselves, learn square dances—"They're ten times more fun than ballroom dancing"—and paint, make pottery, do leather work, weaving or any other type of handicraft.

"The big need today is self-expression just for the fun of it," he said. "The trouble is now if a kid does show a little talent of any kind, his parents right away want to put him in the entertainment business."

Burl said that if he couldn't afford to buy a town he'd start out with a dude ranch, one "without any phoney atmosphere." He hasn't decided what to name his village yet, but it definitely won't be "Culture City."

"I hate that word cluture," Ives said, making a face through his whiskers. "It started as an honest-to-God word, but it has lost its strength. It is already 'pink tea' and has a curse on it."

Just how he'll find time to develop his project, Burl doesn't know. Last year he gave 131 concerts and 150 benefit performances, made 75 radio and television appearances, sang four weeks of hotel engagements, appeared in one movie and three plays, recorded 20 folk songs, learned to fly an airplane and finished the first draft of his second book, "Capra Corner."

Reducing To 240

This would keep the average fat man thin. But Burl not only gained weight on the schedule—he found time to indulge in his hobbies, sailing, photography and amateur painting.

"I travel so much that about the only thing I can paint is the view from hotel windows," he said. "I always ask for an outside room."

His other pleasures are good food, good beer, good cigars and good talk.

"All I need to get fun is to have something to do that gets me excited—and they keep coming along. I get a lot of fun out of living."

Right now he's engaged in his annual diet to cut his weight from about 300 pounds down to 240. When friends warn him his present pace will kill him, Burl says: "Well, nothing shortens life more than living."

Get Wised Up On Income Tax

(Editor's Note: This is the eighth of 12 stories explaining who must do what and how about his 1949 income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—This explains the use of form 1040-A in making your 1949 income tax return.

Just answer the questions on the form and send it to the internal revenue collector. Don't send any money with it. He'll figure your tax for you.

If he finds you owe any money, he'll notify you. You have 30 days after he notifies you to pay up. If he finds you have a refund due because too much tax was withheld from you. He'll send it to you.

Do you have any doubts whether you can use form 1040-A? This is the rule for using it:

Your total income in 1949 must have been under $5,000 and all of it—except for no more than $100 untaxed income in wages, interest or dividends—must have been in wages or salary from which full tax was withheld during the year.

If you don't fit that rule, even though your income was less than $5,000, you can't use form 1040-A. You can use the 1040 short form where you find your own tax in a table on the back.

If your income was $5,000 or more, no matter what kind of income, you can't use either form 1040-A or the 1040 short form. You can use only the 1040 long form and figure your own tax.

Everyone who had taxes withheld should have such a receipt from his boss. It's called form W-2, a withholding statement.

Some people will have more than one such receipt because they worked for more than one boss during the year.

The rest of the problem of filling out form 1040-A is simple. And be sure—if you're making a joint husband-wife return—that both of you sign it.

For more detailed explanations on the problems of deducting, exemptions, and husband-wife filing on Form 1040-A, see previous stories in this series.

Crisp White Play Togs

White fabrics dramatize play togs for spring. Glazed white chintz makes little boy shorts and matching bra (left). Embossed white cotton lends new interest to pedal pushers (right) which team with weskits that features trick flyaway pocket anchored by one button.

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The best fashion foils for sun-drenched skins are, as every girl knows, glistening white play togs.

Thanks to new fabric treatments, these togs are coming up for spring and summer looking more spectacularly white.

There's white chintz, famed for its high shine. Designers of play-clothes are taking it right out of decorators' hands. Another dazzling white fabric heading for tennis courts, golf links and beaches is the fine combed white cotton that's giving pique a run for its honors. Instead of weaving, embossing by copper rollers gives this fabric its deeply-clefted honeycomb or diagonal pattern, its crispness, and a luster that looks silky in the sun.

California's Stephanie Koret stars both of these fabrics in her new playclothes collection. White embossed cotton makes long shorts which are topped by a cutaway weskit with a Peter Pan collar and a new idea in pockets. That's a "flying" pocket, shaped like a purse and anchored to the shoulder of the weskit by one pearl button.

Simply styled shorts and a halter bra with "spaghetti" string straps will shine as a playtime outfit because it's made of white chintz, glazed to enhance whiteness and to resist soil. A feature of the "little boy" shorts is a huge cone-shaped pocket at the front of the pants.

Local Tax Matters
Theme For Rotary Club Discussion

Explanation by J. Joseph Herbert of current matters affecting the tax problems of Manistique and of Schoolcraft county formed the basis of Rotary Club's after dinner talk Monday noon.

Mr. Herbert stated that the 80 per cent valuations fixed by the Schoolcraft County board of supervisors as a basis for deriving tax revenue was against the best interests of the county and of the taxpayer. He stated that using a 66 per cent valuation based on the 100 per cent valuations set by the state tax commission, would be a source for tax revenue that would adequately meet the county's current needs.

During the club's business session a resolution dealing with the quarry pool was unanimously adopted. The resolution called for representatives of the Rotary club, the Lions club and the Manistique Women's club to confer with the city council and ask that body to create an advisory board empowered to lay long term plans to determine how best to develop the quarry pool area. Russell Watson was appointed to represent the Rotary club on the committee to confer with the council.

Sentiment strongly opposing the recently proposed war memorial monument was also voiced at the meeting. Expressions voiced were to the effect that stone monuments soon become obsolete and to have as he is himself.

Gem To Be Given
At First Baptist

The Rev. William Schobert, pastor of the First Baptist church is going to present something "different" at his church services next Sunday evening. He states, frankly, that it will be in the nature of an experiment and he is sure that church goers will be as much interested in what he has to offer as he is himself.

Rev. Schobert recently acquired a complete text of a revival sermon preached by Billie Graham, the noted revivalist, who about a month ago staged a very successful campaign in Los Angeles, California, and later in Boston, Mass. The subject of the sermon is based on that awful four-letter word, "H-E-L-L" and it is said to be the most profound appeal to sinners, the evangelist has ever preached.

Rev. Schobert will deliver this sermon using his own manner of delivery to put effectiveness into the public is invited.

The Fahrenheit scale is named after Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, a German physicist.

Swiss Jumper Enters Tourney

Fritz Tschannen At Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—Fritz Tschannen, Switzerland's distance champion of the world, has joined the ranks of stars who will challenge Giant Pine Mountain slide for America's first 300-foot jump here Saturday and Sunday in the annual ski-jumping double-header.

Soaring the length of a football field on a pair of hickory slabs is a routine matter for the Swiss star. In 1948, Tschannen sailed 337.7 feet, the official world's record, at Planica, Yugoslavia.

He made 16 jumps at Planica in 1948 and averaged 325 feet a jump.

The all-time North American record, 297 feet, was established here last year by Joe Perrault, of Ishpeming, Mich., who will be featured here this weekend in a "battle of champions" with Tschannen. The distance champions will compete in both Saturday and Sunday tournaments.

The Tschannen-Perrault duel will headline the two-day distance-jumping extravaganza which is expected to attract a field of 100 jumpers, including the cream of the American crop. Some 30,000 spectators will jam-pack this ski-jumping capital of the nation over the weekend.

Another Swiss ace, Willy Klopferstein, a teammate of Tschannen on the 1948 Swiss Olympic team and the 1950 World team, also is entered. Klopferstein, an outstanding sculptor now living in Milwaukee, defeated Tschannen for the 1949 Swiss National championship.

Four North American records were established here last year. In addition to Perrault's all-time record, John Bednarz, of Iron Mountain, leaped 235 feet in Class C; George Pera, of Kingsford, Mich., hit 278 feet in Class B; and Howard Jansen, of Chicago, improved the Senior Class record with a 258-foot flight.

Yank Manager Generous With His Contracts

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK—(P)—With Fireman Joe Page in the fold, the New York Yankees' contract problems are fading fast.

Only eleven men on the World Champs' roster are unsigned. If signed, they haven't been announced. Half of them can't be serious.

Page's signing for an estimated $30,000 plus indicated George Weiss, Yank general manager, is in a generous mood. George had little trouble once he sat down to talk with the 32-year-old left-hander who pitched 60 games last season.

"It only took about 10 minutes," said Page yesterday. "It was my best ever. It even surprised me."

Page turned back one contract from his Springfield, Pa. home. That was supposed to have called for only a slight increase on last year's reported $20,000. Estimates on the new agreement run from $30,000 to $35,000, making him the best paid pitcher in Yankee history and certainly the best paid reliever anywhere, anytime.

Two starting pitchers, Vic Raschi, and Lefty Tommy Byrne, still are unsigned. So are Clarence Marshall, Spec Shea and Hugh Radcliffe, the bonus pitcher, drafted from the Phillies organization.

Yogi Berra, No. 1 catcher, may be a problem. Weiss also may have his troubles with Bobby Brown and Bill Johnson who split the work at third base last year.

Brown had a great World Series. Al Martin, rookie second baseman, from Oakland shouldn't take too long to sign.

Johnny Lindell, mentioned prominently in all trade talks involving the Yanks during the winter, hasn't come to terms. Neither has Dick Wakefield, acquired from Detroit in the deal for First Baseman Dick Kryhoski.

Wakefield, eager to make a good impression with a new club, probably will have to take a stiff cut from his Detroit pay.

Tiger Catcher Happy

Nobody on the Yankee club is considered a "holdout" until March 1 when Spring training starts at St. Petersburg, Fla. Most of the unsigned men already are in Florida.

Elsewhere around the major league circuit, others were finding their way into the fold.

The Cincinnati Reds signed veteran catcher Walker Cooper, the onetime Cardinal and Giant star who was frequently mentioned as trading bait during the off-season.

Detroit's No. 1 catcher, Aaron Robinson, signed a contract that made him a "very happy ball player."

Both Boston clubs announced satisfied employees. Catcher Matt Batts agreed to Red Sox terms. Infelder Gene Mauch signed his pact with the Braves.

The St. Louis Browns received signed contracts from Pitchers Dick Starr and Vernon Taylor but Outfielders Roy Sievers remained on the "I-want-more" list.

The Browns should have a young, hustling and aggressive ball club—one that should enjoy knocking off the leading outfits in the American league."

Dr. David F. Tracy is the man selected to fight inferiority complexes. He will leave with a contingent of the Browns Sunday for the club's spring training base at Burbank, Calif.

"My playing is worth more," Michaels wrote his bosses.

Manager Zach Taylor of the Browns will conduct two workouts a day.

While Taylor puts one squad through its paces on the field, Dr. Tracy will handle the other group.

"Once a player overcomes fear and has confidence, he has nothing to bother him anymore."

The doctor plans to set up classes on a day-and-night basis at the training camp.

Mike Holovak of Boston College, in the 1943 Orange Bowl battle, carried the ball 10 times for 158 yards—the 158 average being a major bowl record.

Notre Dame Gridder Hurt At Gymnastics

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(P)—Ray Espenan, 24, a reserve end on the Notre Dame football team for the last three seasons, was in critical condition today from injuries suffered in demonstrating gymnastics.

Espenan, who also was a broad jumper on the Irish track team, suffered a dislocated vertebra in his neck while demonstrating a tumbling act to students at South Bend Central high school yesterday. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital and early today attending physicians said his condition remained critical. He remained conscious they added.

Espenan, a senior from New Orleans, who won football letters the last three years, was directing a gymnast class as a practice teacher.

Espenan's brother, Pierre, 21, also a senior at the university, said "Ray knew what had happened to him and wouldn't let himself be moved until the ambulance arrived. He was conscious all the while."

Pierre, who was in the operating room with his brother, added, "Ray and I are in our last semester and we are going to graduate together."

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Espenan, were notified and left for South Bend last night.

Both boys attended Holy Cross high school in New Orleans before entering Notre Dame.

Iron Mountain Jumper, Johnny Bednarz, Takes Ishpeming Ski Honors

ISHPEMING, Mich.—(P)—An Iron Mountain, Mich., skier, John Bednarz, ranks as the cream of the crop of 52 jumpers in the Central Ski association tournament.

Bednarz won the class B title here Monday before a crowd of 7,000 spectators with a leap of 228 feet, the longest of the day. His other jump was 211 feet and his point total was 223.

The class A crown was claimed here Monday before a crowd of 7,000 spectators with a leap of 228 feet and a 224.4 point total. Class C honors were claimed by Keith Zuelke, Ely, Minn., who jumped 209 and 210 feet, and had a 213.5 point total.

The class A crown was claimed by Gerald Gauthier of Ishpeming with leaps of 223 and 224 feet and a 222.4 point total. Class C honors were claimed by Keith Zuelke, Ely, Minn., who jumped 209 and 210 feet, and had a 213.5 point total.

Railways Make Safety Record

Fatality Rate Is At Low Percentage

The nation's railroads last year made the best passenger and employee safety records in their history, the Michigan Railroads Association reports.

The association said that passenger fatalities resulting from collisions, derailments and other train accidents in 1949 numbered only one for each 5,875,000,000 passenger-miles. Total fatalities to passengers on trains were 0.07 for each 100,000,000 passenger-miles or only one fatality for each 1,400,000,000 miles traveled. This passenger fatality rate, the association stated, represents a decrease of 42 per cent under 1939.

The railroads performed an estimated 35,250,000,000 passenger-miles of service in 1949, and there were only six passenger fatalities resulting from train accidents and but 25 passenger fatalities from all causes, the association declared.

The fatality rate for railroad employees was 0.13 for each million man-hours worked, which is the lowest rate for any year on record, according to the railroad association.

Michigan Campers To Hear Their Fire Warnings From Sky

LANSING—(P)—If you light a woods fire next summer and hear a chiding voice from the heavens—relax.

It will only be a state conservation department fire patrol plane equipped with a loudspeaker capable of a one-mile range.

The department said it would experiment with such a plane next summer to permit immediate contact with radio-equipped forest fire fighters. If the scheme is successful it will be used in other aircraft.

Coal Miner Runs Crochet Hook

BARNESBORO, Pa.—(P)—Coal miner Joseph Barnosky, 45, of Barnesboro can handle a crocheting needle as easily as a pick and shovel. The Western Pennsylvania miner, a veteran of 30 years in the pits, learned the art of needlework from his wife. The pastime keeps them both busy during the present coal strike.

"We've already completed enough work to fill our daughter's hope chest," commented Barnosky.

Lions Told Of Chinchillas

Industry Growing, Trams Reports

Development of the chinchilla industry in the United States was outlined to members of the Escanaba Lions club Monday night by Mel Trams, local chinchilla breeder.

Trams predicted that there will be sufficient domesticated chinchillas to launch a pelting program within five years. He said that chinchilla furs will be in the high price class and will not compete with such furs as beaver, muskrat, fox or even mink.

The speaker reported that emphasis in the industry now is placed upon quality breeding stock rather than pelts. Poor stock is being rogued out, he said. Trams said that the national organization of chinchilla breeders is doing an excellent job in promoting the industry and in stock improvement, as well as in public relations.

Trams told the Lions club members that the fur of the chinchilla animal is among the softest in the world, with 60 to 80 individual hairs growing from a single follicle. It is so fine, he said, that a person passing his hand over the fur cannot feel it.

The chinchilla industry has made its greatest strides in the western part of the United States, Trams said, and the industry there is recognized for its great possibilities. He reported that the chinchilla animal, a native of South America, has become acclimated to this country and that it is a comparatively easy animal to raise. Food costs are less than $3 per year per animal, he said. The chinchilla female can deliver three litters per year, Trams told the Lions members.

The speaker exhibited a live chinchilla to the audience.
